CESI Business Partner NovaLIS is bought by ACS

ACS Government Solutions, a financially stable, publicly held Fortune 500 Corporation recently acquired the NovaLIS Technologies records management suite of products along with their clientele. CESA, an established business partnership with NovaLIS since 2001 is now a business partner with ACS. ACS Government Solutions Senior Vice President, Michael Daniels, believes “This transition will have a very positive impact for NovaLIS clients, providing you a stable solutions provider with land records and NovaLIS product expertise.”

ACS Government Solutions has more than 28 years experience within the land records community and over 700 land records clients. ACS’s extensive set of government products and services provide capabilities to support all aspects of operations. ACS has a solid foundation with more than 10,000 government clients worldwide and was also a partner with NovaLIS Technologies for the past three years preceding this business deal. Clients should see only minimal changes yet many benefits with this transition to ACS.

Steve Libera, GIS Project Manager for CESA announces, “This industry can only benefit from a transaction which combines the reputable products and information of NovaLIS Technologies and ACS Government Solutions.”
